FIRST IMPRESSIONS: VISITING PORTSMOUTH

During the colonial period, Portsmouth was the largest settlement in New Hampshire. Farmers who lived outside of the city would travel to markets in Portsmouth in order to sell their goods to the people living there.

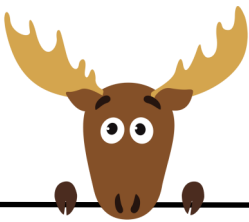

Imagine you are a farmer bringing your goods to a Portsmouth market. Use your five senses to describe what you think that experience might have been like.

What do I hear?

What do I see?

What do I touch?

What do I smell?

What do I taste?
