DRAW YOUR OWN COMIC: RETAIL POLITICS

Imagine you are a candidate running for president, and you have just arrived in New Hampshire to begin your campaign.

Draw the story of your campaign. What local events would you visit to meet with New Hampshire voters? What towns will you visit? How will you travel around the state?

Two large, empty rectangular boxes with thick black outlines, intended for drawing a comic strip. The boxes are positioned side-by-side and take up most of the lower half of the page.
