

NAME: _____

BRAINSTORM! MARKET REVOLUTION

After the Industrial Revolution, people no longer had to make their everyday items from scratch. Because factories could create large amounts of products very quickly, people were able to buy the items they needed in stores.

Brainstorm some items you think people had access to in stores that they normally would have had to make from scratch. What kinds of clothing could you buy? What kinds of household items? Draw more lines if you need.

